

SOLIDPROFESSOR

BACKGROUND

SolidProfessor provides a high-quality, effective learning experience to SOLIDWORKS® users whether you're an individual, part of a corporate team, or an instructor with a classroom of students. SolidProfessor will help you learn SOLIDWORKS and continually improve your skills, standardize skills across a team, or provide the resources to pass any of the SOLIDWORKS Certification exams. SolidProfessor provides the resources to help you on your own time and at your own pace. We support thousands of companies and schools, and more than 100,000 individuals through our web-hosted interactive learning platform.

ENTERPRISE SOLUTION

In today's fast-paced world, keeping design and manufacturing teams effective and up-to-speed can be challenging. Good managers know that keeping up with the latest design techniques can help them avoid delayed product releases, poor quality designs, and higher engineering costs. Our online learning system is proven to enhance a team's efficiency, standardize design practices, and can be tailored to the unique business needs of any engineering group.

ACADEMIC SOLUTION

Preparing students to become proficient CAD users in an environment of budget cuts and limited resources is a challenge. SolidProfessor can help with a complete learning solution for SOLIDWORKS that is effective, engaging, and affordable.

INDIVIDUAL SOLUTION

Our lessons are designed to help users rapidly increase their SOLIDWORKS knowledge. Our eLearning platform allows users to start learning the basics; advanced users can jump ahead into the specific areas of learning that they require. Our intention is to provide our members with the tools they need to develop their design skills so that they will have an immediate impact in their life and working environment.
